

In case you hadn't "noticed," the City of Norwalk has a brand-new brand.

Come for the unveiling.

There are hundreds of 9,000-population suburban communities across the U.S.
Many are destined to stay that way. Not Norwalk!

We're launching a new branding campaign that's designed to put Norwalk at the top of the list with those selecting sites for their company or other organization, and with developers looking for new residential and commercial development opportunities.

We believe in tooting our own horn. Telling everyone why Norwalk should be part of their future plans.

We want you to know what we're doing, and how and why we're doing it.
So . . . you are invited to our

BRANDING
